RE: Representation on IPB Council

I have been asked by the Victorian Branch Committee of Pax Christi Australia, as its Secretary, to write the International Peace Bureau to nominate Professor Joseph Camilleri for a position on the Council of the International Peace Bureau. Joe Camilleri is the founding President of Pax Christi in Australia. Both in his role at La Trobe University and as President of Pax Christi Australia, Joe has been a leading figure in Peace activism and international relations in Australia. His education and leadership role at the University has been nothing short of outstanding.

Pax Christi Australia wholeheartedly acknowledges his willingness to serve on the council of IPB and look forward through him to continued collaboration with the IPB.

For fuller details of Professor Camilleri's teaching, research, professional, advocacy and other interests and contributions visit his website:
