NATO Heads of State will meet for their annual summit on Brussels on 14th June. Over the past decades the focus of these summits has been the increasing expansion and globalisation of NATO. This year it will focus on how to maintain western dominance in a world where China is rising economically. NATO's answer as outlined in its recent NATO 2030: United for a New Era document, is to expand its orientation to the Asia Pacific, to deal with the 'impact' of the emerging China.

NATO 2030 continues the old lie that NATO is based on democracy, liberty and the rule of law and frames both Russia and China as enemies and 'systemic rivals'. Political tension is ramped up alongside a growing US military presence in the Asia Pacific. Increased military spending and nuclear weapons modernization is added to a dangerous mix. NATO is leading us towards war and the No to War – No to NATO network works to stop these dangerous developments. We demand global cooperation to deal with climate change, pandemics and inequality not a global war drive.

There is no place for NATO in the world we want to build: join our virtual counter-summit to discuss alternatives – in solidarity for peace, justice and disarmament.

Since the end of the Cold War and the dissolution of the Warsaw Pact, NATO has developed into a global alliance through expansion into Central and Eastern Europe, conducting destabilizing military interventions in the 'war against terror' and forging bilateral and multilateral alliances worldwide. At the NATO summit, the report "NATO 2030: United for a new Era" will be discussed. Its militaristic approach to security defines Russia and China as systemic rivals while complex problems in the south are treated simply in terms of counter-terrorist responses to extremist violence. In this webinar we'll analyse NATO as a global militarist actor.

2. Dissolution of NATO – for solidarity, sustainability and disarmament

By diverting attention and resources to militarism, NATO will also make it difficult to achieve the urgent Paris Agreement climate targets and the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals by 2030. Global solidarity and international cooperation is needed to solve common challenges: the pandemic, the climate emergency, and inequality. With diplomacy, disarmament and sustainable development through a democratised United Nations system, there is no need for this western hemisphere-dominated, anachronistic military alliance. In this webinar we'll discuss how we can challenge NATO and promote human security.

Opening Greetings: Özlem Demirel, Germany, MEP, THE LEFT

Introductions:

- For nuclear abolition and common security: Sean Conner, USA/Germany, IPB
- Solidarity and resistance to war: Kate Hudson, UK, CND
- Transformation for sustainability and peace: Tamara Lorincz, Canada, Women for Peace
- Achieving disarmament: Quique Sanchez, Barcelona, GCOMS
